It is also mentioned that, in case the minimum wages in Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan increase by a higher amount than those in Haryana, the Special Allowance applicable to these states shall be adjusted against the increase in minimum wages to maintain uniformity in the overall wage structure. In this regard, kindly clarify the treatment of Special Allowance with the following example: 1. At present, the indicated operation charge is Rs. 843 per shift for Uttar Pradesh, Haryana and Rajasthan. In Uttar Pradesh, the minimum wage including applicable statutory compliances is Rs. 764 per shift, with Rs.78 per shift being the Special Allowance. 2. If, during the currency of the contract, the minimum wage and applicable statutory compliances in Uttar Pradesh are revised upward by Rs. 100 per shift, the increase in minimum wages would exceed the existing Special Allowance of Rs. 78 per shift by Rs. 22 per shift. 3. Accordingly, we understand that the revised payable operation charge for Uttar Pradesh would be Rs. 864 per shift, calculated as follows: Existing minimum wage & statutory compliances: Rs.764/shift Increase in minimum wages: Rs. 100/shift Total revised operation charge: Rs. 864/shift We request you to kindly confirm whether the above understanding is correct.	As per tender conditions, treatment of Special Allowance shall be as follows: For the purpose of this clause: “X” shall mean the increase in minimum wages along with applicable statutory compliances in Haryana, in ₹ per shift. “Y” shall mean the increase in minimum wages along with applicable statutory compliances in Uttar Pradesh, in ₹ per shift. The applicable scenarios shall be as follows: Case 1: X≥Y The revised minimum wages shall be: Haryana: ₹842.91 + ₹X per shift Uttar Pradesh: ₹764.42 + ₹78.49 + ₹Y per shift Special Allowance shall remain same. Case 2: X<Y The revised minimum wages shall be: Haryana: ₹842.91 + ₹X per shift Uttar Pradesh: ₹764.42 + ₹Y + ₹(78.49+X-Y)* per shift *If ₹(78.49+X-Y) is negative, then it shall be considered zero. The Special Allowance applicable to Uttar Pradesh shall be adjusted against the increase in minimum wages. The above example is for reference purpose only. Rest tender conditions shall prevail.
